"The child who concentrates is immensely happy."

~Maria Montessori

E2 Classroom Activities: Maria Montessori said that joy, feeling one's own value, being appreciated and loved by others, feeling useful and capable of production are all factors of enormous value for the human soul. One of the ways we work to create and environment for feeling one's own value is by putting a play. It is such an accomplishment to work so hard toward an end. Every child has contributed a great deal to this performance. The energy and discipline required to put on a performance like this is enormous, but it has many learning opportunities. First of all the children learn about cooperation , not just for the evening of the performance but also during their many rehearsals. Second they get to practice public speaking including voice projection and enunciation. Third, they get to use their memories, and fourth they learn so much about the content of the play from hearing the other performers practice. The excitement of the performance and the investment of time make these kinds of experiences memorable ones for the children. It truly was an exciting experience and a wonderful way to learn Greek History. Thank you everyone for all of your contributions to this experience. Students also turned in a lot of their ongoing work and accomplished many math problems in their Key Books as well.

Our big class trip is this year is to Sea Camp in the Florida Keys. The dates are May 6,7, and 8.

There will be some additional costs which we will share with you closer to the trip.
