

6th Grade News

Dec. 4, 2020

This week the students began having lessons on creating large cardboard polyhedrons. We will soon have a huge rhombicosidodecahedron or a rhombicuboctahedron on our shelves. One of our assignments for our writer's notebook was to make a list of fifty things that make us happy.

We have started working on logic puzzles for our daily challenge. They are challenging, but the students are enjoying working together to solve them. Another new addition to our morning meetings are discussing simple acts of kindness we can do for people. We are using this Kindness Calendar for ideas.
